

CORE VALUES

The Bahamas Natural Resources Foundation reflects their commitment for making a positive impact through their guiding values.

Integrity - We commit to strong ethics, building trust through responsible actions

Collaboration - We foster partnerships, participation and interconnection to create meaningful outcomes.

Equity & Inclusion - We believe that everything we do and everyone we engage must be respected, heard and valued.

Courage – We stand bravely to challenge established guardrails to redress the social and economic injustices and demand our rightful and lawful position as owners.

EXPANDED VERSION

Integrity: We commit to strong ethics and building trust through responsible actions. We believe that honesty and transparency are vital in building and maintaining relationships with stakeholders, partners, and the public. For us integrity is essential to achieving our goals and making a positive impact in the Bahamas and the world.

Collaboration: We foster partnerships, participation, and interconnection to create meaningful outcomes. We recognize that working together with individuals and organizations is critical to achieving our mission. We believe that collaboration allows us to share knowledge and resources and ultimately leads to better outcomes and more significant impacts.

Equity & Inclusion: We believe that everything we do and everyone we engage must be respected, heard, and valued. We recognize that diversity is essential to innovation and progress. We strive to create a culture of inclusivity and ensure that everyone has an equal opportunity to contribute and participate in our work. We believe that everyone has a unique perspective and that their contributions are essential to our success.

Courage: We stand bravely to challenge established guardrails to redress social and economic injustices and demand our rightful and lawful position as owners. We believe in taking bold actions to address complex challenges and tackle systemic issues within The Bahamas. We understand that courage is essential to effecting lasting change and are committed to taking risks to achieve our goals. We believe that by standing up for what is right, we can make a positive impact in the world.
